CORRESPONDENCE.

MAGOFFIN COUNTY.

Hendrick's Ram.

Noah Minix and wife were guests of Mr. Spurlock Sunday.

John W. Mayo, of Paintsville, was here on business Saturday.

Born, to the wife of A. J. Bailey, of this place, a 10 pound baby girl. Henry Rice and wife are visiting friends and relatives at Wesley chapel.

N. P. Lykins, of Prestonsburg, was in Salyersville on business Saturday.

N. P. and Calloway Howard are making several levies for the taxes of the county.

Calloway Howard and wife are visiting friends and relatives at Whitekersville.

Calen Arnett, of this place, left for West Liberty Sunday to attend to his business affairs.

Rev. G. C. May, of Floyd county, passed through here en route to Mt. Sterling a few days ago.

Mrs. B. W. Arnett, of this place, is engaged in the willow basket business. Think she is having very good success.

W. O. Howard, one of our hustling farmers, has been trading considerably in real estate and personal property.

Eugene B. Arnett, one among the best business young men of our county, is in very bad health at present. Hope for the better in the future.

Dr. B. F. Dickson, of Salyersville, is getting a good practice in our county. He had 82 cases of typhoid fever on hand in April 1895, and only lost 2.

Harris Howard, one of White Oak's hustling merchants, was at Salyersville on business Saturday, rather prospecting the country and trying to buy some young cattle.

Fred Patrick, of Ivyton, and Miss Tida Carpenter, of Whitakersville, were united in matrimony Thursday, the 5th inst. May they be happy in the future and all their troubles be little ones.

E. D. May, one of the Hazel Green Academy pupils, paid us all a pleasant visit Saturday. Mr. May is one of Magoffin's brainiest products and will make a good scholar some of these days before very long.

Captain Reuben Patrick of Salyersville, bought four head of cattle at the Gillett sale at Whitekersville, two yearling steers and two 2 year-olds. Would have averaged 600 pounds to the steer, and cost him $100. Cattle seems to be bearing a good price according to his purchase.

MORGAN COUNTY.

Maytown Missils.

Died, on the 10th of March, after suffering almost one year with consumption, James H. Bowlin, living near town. He was buried in the family grave yard of Arch Day.

H. C. Cord is now in his nice home in Maytown. He has rented 15 or 20 acres of the best corn land we have. He comes to us from Hazel Green well recommended as a citizen and gentleman, and we welcome him and his estimable family to our midst.

Old March is a bright jolly fellow. He's blustering and - ang, you see, And he seems to delight In creating a fright, But at heart he's as good as can be, For he brings along our birthday.

Like the old war god—Mars—his name sake, He comes with a rush and a roar, Bringing billiards, perhaps, And cold freezing snaps, Till we long for his reign to be o'er, Although he brings along our birthday.

JUDGE BECKNER.

A Correspondent of a West Virginia Paper interviews him.

In traveling to Pikeville, Ky., this week we were thrown with the Hon. W. M. Beckner, who was nominated and elected in 1894 to fill out the unexpired term of Hon. M. C. Lisle in congress. He is a most genial traveling companion, and a gentleman of varied experience in state and national politics, and from an humble position in boyhood he has attained most flattering recognition from his countrymen. He was born June 19th, 1841, in Nicholas county Ky., and after a short career as a teacher he located in Winchester, Ky., in January, 1865, and soon thereafter was made county attorney and later county judge.

In 1880 he was appointed a member of prison commission by Gov. Luke P. Blackburn, and visited all the prisons of the country; wrote the report of the commission which was highly complimented by those engaged in prison reform. All prison legislation in Kentucky has since been on the lines of this report. He was appointed railroad commissioner in 1882, and served nearly two years when he resigned, although he had two more years of service before him in an office worth $2,000 per year, with little to do. He began the agitation of the school question in Kentucky twenty-five years ago; organized meetings and conventions; urged the passage of the new school law of 1883-4; was elected to the constitutional convention in 1890, and took a leading part in framing the new constitution of Kentucky; was elected to the legislature in 1888 without Republican opposition; was nominated by the Democrats in 1894 to fill out the unexpired term of M. C. Lisle in congress; was elected over his Republican opponent by 1,261 majority; served on the committee of elections in congress expressing sympathy with the Armenians, a poor persecuted people oppressed and persecuted by the Turks because they believe in the Christian religion; introduced a bill providing for equality in the grant of public school lands for school purposes; made a speech on the currency question in which he favored the repeal of the tax on state bonds so as to let them issue circulating notes; advocated the use of both gold and silver as well as paper currency, all to be on a parity in value; wrote the report of the minority opposing a bill introduced by Mr. McCall, of Massachusetts, which, if passed, would turn over to the United States courts the determination of every contest for election in congress, or for a presidential right is concerned—that is, as to who should sit until the proof is taken and the contest finally decided. Judge Beckner's report on this was highly complimented by men like Van L. Wilson, Dan Lockwood and others. Judge Beckner got his committee, which had unanimously endorsed this bill, to reconsider, when it only got 7 out of 15 members of the committee. This is one of the most dangerous and unconstitutional measures introduced in years, because the state authorities alone have the right to certify who was elected and the house to decide as to the election and return of its own members.

By his land grant bill Kentucky would get certificates for nearly 1,400,000 acres, and West Virginia nearly 600,000 acres of land. The states that formed the union and Tennessee, Kentucky, Maine and West Virginia got no lands for school purposes. The states admitted to the union from 1808 to 1850 had 840 acres, or one section out of each township, reserved for schools. All states since 1852 have had two sections reserved. If Kentucky could get this land, and manage it well, it would greatly increase her school fund and lengthen her school term in each district.

Judge Beckner has always advocated whatever would be of most benefit to the masses of the people, and would have been nominated for judge of the court of appeals in 1892 had he been willing to serve. He preferred to go to congress, where he could be useful in a broader and more active field. He is sober and industrious, and made himself very useful whilst in congress in looking after the claims of the people of his district—pension and war claims. He is a great believer in looking and damming the rivers, and thinks this could be secured by proper work from some one experienced as he is in legislation.

Judge Beckner now desires to be returned to congress to continue the work he has already inaugurated during the ninety days which he spent there. At this end of this district he is immensely popular with all the people. While we are not on the Kentucky side of the river, numbers of our patrons are, and we take interest in Kentucky affairs, because our circulation is large there. We do not know that we have ever met a gentleman with whom we have been more favorably impressed than with the distinguished gentleman whom we are now discussing. His knowledge is broad and his opinions liberal, and having been brought in contact with public affairs from an early period he is ably fitted for the position to which he aspires. If the people of the Tenth congressional district of Kentucky are looking for an able, honest and hard working representative, Judge Beckner is the one who would honor the place instead of the place honoring him. We are informed that he has never been beaten and his name would mean two thousand votes to the ticket. He is of every sense of the word a true Kentucky gentleman and makes friends wherever he goes. We are pleased to have met him and shall expect to hear of good done United States for this section of West Virginia and Eastern Kentucky by him.—Southern West Virginian.

Are You One

Of those unhappy people who are suffering with weak nerves, starting at every slight sound, unable to endure any unusual disturbance, finding it impossible to sleep? Avoid opiate and nerve compounds. Feed the nerves upon blood made pure and nourishing by the great blood purifier and nerve tonic, Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Pills are the best after-dinner pills, assist digestion, prevent constipation. 25 cents.

We notice in Lexington papers the following sales of real estate. Four frame cottages on Chestnut street, with five rooms each, on electric railway and lighted by electricity. No. 170 to E. E. Hutchinson for $100; No. 172 to S. A. Hardesty for $500; No. 174 to W. D. Bryant for $500 and No. 176 to Mrs. Sanders for $185. A five room frame cottage, No. 81, on Wilson street, was sold to Warren Bain for $400. Three years ago any of this property would have sold for $800 or a $1,000.

A Chance for Hustlers.

Probably no other paper comes so near filling the want of a general family newspaper as Pennsylvania Grip, which gives away, free, a complete story each week. Its publishers want a hustling agent in every town in the state, not already supplied. Bright boys and girls, who are looking for a chance to make money, should write for terms and sample copies to Grip Publishing Co., Williamsport, Pa.

Why suffer with that headache, when you can secure a box of Eucalyptus at this office for 50 cents and get immediate relief.

THE MERCILESS.

There are some shivered souls and meek, Who, puffed with Holy Writ, defame Their neighbors' doers, and cry unclean, And raise their eyes to show in shame,

Poor fools!—in frailty all are kin; The chosen Peter fell from grace; The man who never shamed in sin Is traitor to the human race.

With scarce an impulse to control, Without one passion to repress, That sinless thing without a soul Is ever the most merciless.

Expand—enlarge your bigot bounds; Embrace the brotherhood of war; Let slip no more your slender bounds, But let the heated sinner go.

Be large—be liberal; improve Of love, that heaven-freighted ship, To anchor close beside your door, That good may pass from lip to lip.

But there are men whose lives are broad, Whose eyes flash forth a sunlike ray, Still proving something of the God Is stamped upon our human clay.

It is such men whose deeds repair Our shatter'd faith, 'till so resigned, In spite of all the wrongs we bear, We can not choose but love mankind.

—H. P. O'Brien, in The New Bohemian.

To the Farmers and Public Generally.

I have had the floor department of the Hazel Green Mill overhauled and put in first-class condition; by the boss miller of the mountains, Ed Moore, and an am making better flour than was ever turned out from this mill. We are now ready to grind for all that may see fit to patronize us, and respectfully solicit your patronage. Our grind days are Tuesdays and Fridays, but we will grind at any time on 20 bushels or more.

Bring on your wheat. We are in condition to do you good work.

On the Care of Rings.
It is never wise to wear rings that have stones in them. Of course, all rings need to be cleaned from time to time, and all rings should be worn only on the fingers which will stand washing with soap. Turquoise and seed pearls will change color if subjected to any such treatment. The majority of people who wear rings should have perfect teeth, for all rings will stand washing. Almost all pearls have at least a tiny pin prick somewhere on their surface, and this, like a speck on your face, is a thing which you cannot remove. Rings, therefore, are not for those who are a little bit of a perfectionist. It is therefore useful to take off one's rings when washing the hands. This is how many valuable jewels are lost. It is also true that people are so prone to be so forgetful, and so such occasions is to put the rings onto your mouth or at least between your lips. Then you will remember to dip them in water before drying your hands. Active Eyes Cream.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce CHAR. T. BYRD, of Campton, as a candidate for the office of Circuit Court Clerk for Wolfe county, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

LACONIC LIVE NEWS.

The state of Kentucky is in a pretty pickle when such men as Jack Chinn and Jim Williams are placed in power to bulldoze decent people.

The present legislature last week did more to disgrace the dear old state than all the feuds in Kentucky for a decade have done. Republican reform!

When such men as Jim Williams and Jack Chinn take charge of the general assembly as chaperons that body should adjourn and go home in disgrace.

Col. Bob Holloway, a sportsman of Lexington, last week harpooned and landed a devil-fish weighing 2,800 pounds off the coast of Florida, where he is spending the winter.

The militia at Frankfort for the last few days of the legislature will cost the tax payers of the state several thousands of dollars, and maybe have a salutary effect in future elections. Republican reform is n't!

The following message came the wire Tuesday evening: "Jack Chinn had a fight and the legislature adjourned without electing a United States senator." What a handsome tribute to an outgoing august assemblage of Statesmen!

The benefits that are being bestowed by the Hazel Green Academy are incalculable. They are like the waves that are caused by dropping a pebble into a pool, which grow larger and larger until all have kissed the outermost shores.

The Kentucky legislature last week disgraced the state and all the decent people in it. The riotous acts of that body were never equalled by the rowdies of Rotten Row in London. Pistols were pulled, whisky flowed freely and the air was blue with blasphemy. Is this the reform the Republicans promised us? If so, God save the mark!

COOPER UNDER FIRE.

Charged With Aiding "Wid" Hall's Swindling Scheme.

The federal court is now engaged in the trial of U. M. Cooper, who is charged with co-operating with "Wid" Hall, the man whose swindle attracted so much attention over a year ago and who was sentenced to a term of years in the penitentiary. In brief the case is that "Wid" Hall fraudulently pretended to be conducting a general merchandise store and used the mails to give large orders for goods of varied character. Cooper was given as reference, and when written to would give Hall a strong indorsement.

It appears that Cooper owns considerable property and is accounted a man of wealth at Paintsville, Ky., where he is a prosperous merchant and has a substantial interest in the drug business. He has, moreover, acted as the superintendent of the Methodist Sunday-school there.

The charge is that he acted in collusion with "Wid" Hall in disposing of the goods, and another prosperous general merchant and liquor dealer named Damron, living at Catlettsburg, was also involved in the indictments. Evidence has been adduced to show that goods to the value of near $50,000 have been obtained without payments being made, Louisville merchants being among the sufferers, and that Cooper, without making himself responsible as an indorser, vouched for Hall's standing to an extent which he must have known was beyond reason.

Many witnesses are in attendance, and the most important for the government is Postoffice Inspector Fletcher, who so thoroughly worked up the evidence which convicted Hall. Cooper is defended by Attorney A. E. Willson, of Louisville, and Attorney W. S. Harkins, who has represented the defendants from the beginning of the case. United States District Attorney Smith, as has been his practice—a successful one—is conducting the prosecution alone. Courier-Journal, 12th.

LATER.—He was acquitted.

The value of information lies more in the receiver than in the giver. The value to you of being told of the wonderful properties of Ramon's Tonic Liver Pills all depends upon whether you ever have sick-headaches, indigestion or sour stomach. ## ACADEMY NOTES.

Two new matriculates this week. Henry Murphy has gone to his father's, near Maytown, to recuperate.

W. H. Roark and L. J. Gullett are spending the week with their families in Mangoffin county.

Botany, American Literature, Roman History and penmanship will be special classes, beginning the 30th inst.

Henry L. Godsey, of Washington, D. C., will address the graduating class on commencement day, June 8th.

J. H. Stinson and S. M. Nickell are at their home in Morgan county; the former is looking after some business matters; the latter is taking a few days rest.

No primary declamatory contest will be held this year, but the teachers will appoint a declaimer to represent this Academy in the Bluegrass declamatory contest to be held in May.

The true pupil will stay in school till the last day and the last hour of the session if at all possible. Spring-time often tests the staying qualities of the pupil, and it is not always "raising crops" that attracts from school duties.

At the opening of the next term, March 30, there should be quite a number of new matriculates. The spring-time is the best time in the session for hard studying. Besides special work and attention will be given to those who are preparing to teach school, fitting them for the examination of June 5 and 6.

On the evening of April 3, the following persons will discuss the question—The annexation of Canada to the United States would be beneficial to the latter. Affirmative, A. C. Jones, E. O. Taulbee, Garret Kenney and J. I. Wilson; Negative, R. A. Hord, H. E. Oney, R. K. Nickell, and J. O. Kash. These debates are both interesting and profitable. All should hear them.

The debate on last Friday evening was a success. Every speaker acquitted himself with credit. No better speeches would be heard in the legislative halls of the state. The debaters had studied the subject, and gave to the large audience the fruits of their studies. If the Academite can get the speeches written, he will have them to appear in the columns of THE HERALD, beginning with the next issue. ACADEMITE.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore it requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

If now and true, fresh and clean, in THE HERALD it will be seen, and now is the time to subscribe. $1 pays for it and the Enquirer a year.

Many who are already using the flour made by the Hazel Green Mill pronounce it first-class.
